

THE MACKS

The Macks are a young 4-piece rock and roll band from Portland, OR. The Macks play fast, The Macks play loud, and The Macks will get you moving one way or another. Featuring vocalist Sam Fulwiler, guitarist Ben Windheim, drummer Joe Windheim, and bassist Bailey Sauls, the band offers kinetic, passionate, and memorable live shows that appeal to everyone from punks to blues enthusiasts. The Macks play frequently in Portland, Eugene, and Corvallis, and have developed supportive and dedicated followings in all three cities, taking an active role in each music scene. The band boasts a DIY ethic, producing all music, videos, merchandise, and art themselves, as well as building many of their own shows, whether it be a benefit show for the Portland homeless community or house shows supporting touring artists.

On December 20, 2017, The Macks released their debut LP titled Camp Poppa, recorded live in a large room in the wee hours of the morning. The album features the tracks the band has built their following on from their live sets, capturing the raw energy of their performances. The band completed their first tour of the western and southwestern United States following the release, reaching all the way to New Mexico with the record and then toured again through Washington, British Columbia, and Idaho. The band wrote their second effort over Summer 2018 and are touring extensively through the year before setting out to record LP no. 2.

Flowers Music Video | Watch The Macks live | \$350 booking

“Even though you’re just hearing their songs, the imagery of what you know their performances are like immediately comes to mind. If you haven’t seen them live before, 1) you should change that and 2) the sound of this album alone is one that can paint you a pretty picture of what that show is.” – KBVR FM

“Rowdy guitar solos, long instrumental interludes, and intelligent lyrics.... this Portland four-piece’s newest release is a golden addition to the flourishing community of up and coming alternative rock records in the Pacific Northwest.” - Northwest Music Scene

“Camp Poppa sounds familiar to anyone who has seen the band perform live, but mastered recordings of the band’s music provide an entertaining experience to fans and first-time listeners alike. The Macks’ stage presence easily transcends into its recorded music“ - The Daily Emerald

“I can’t tell if you’re a wet dream or a nightmare” - fan

Contact:
Ben Windheim
booking@themacksband.com
503-926-2119

Spotify | Bandcamp
themacksband.com
Facebook | Instagram
Twitter | YouTube

